Who's it for?

The Crash Course was designed for students who realize the SAT or the ACT is around the corner and they either need or want to improve their scores.

What is it?

Students meet a live instructor online in real time for four hours and learn time-proven strategies for every discipline in the exam. Students work from either The Official SAT Study Guide or The Real ACT Prep Guide that has been mailed to them.

Where is it?

Students meet their instructor online from the comfort of their own homes.

How much does it cost?

A traditional class with limited seating is $145, and a MOOCC (Massive Online Open Online Crash Course) is $65. Books are not included in the price.

When is it?

Each Crash Course is held on a Saturday two weeks prior to the SAT or the ACT.

Why?

Shortly before the exam many students need test prep or a tune-up, and schools still place a premium on tests scores and offer meritorious money.
